

Secure the IT - OT convergence

Jean-Michel Brun

The Interconnection of processes, information technology (IT) and operational technology (OT), future trend towards full information accessibility and control, brings a big list of challenge from the cyber security point of view.

This presentation will list some of them and stress the need of "modern" secure technologies.